DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fan (U.S. Patent 6,665,736).

As to claims 1, 10, Fan discloses a motherboard (500, figures 5A-5B) comprising:

a printed circuit board (500);

a first memory slot set (503, 504) disposed on the printed circuit board having first memory and second slots (SDR DMM slots);

a second memory slot set (506-508) disposed on the printed circuit board having third and fourth memory slots (SDR DMM slots); and a terminator circuit module (RS) disposed between the first and second memory slot sets, wherein the terminator circuit module (RS) is electrically connected to the first and second memory slot sets through the printed circuit board.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fan ('736) in view of Bennett et al. (U.S. Patent 5,747,893).

As to claims 2-3, Fan does not disclose the terminator circuit module comprises a plurality of resistors and a plurality of capacitors, and the plurality of resistors and the plurality of capacitors are connected in series and alternately arranged.

Bennett et al, teaches a terminator circuit (208) as shown in figure 2 comprising resistor and capacitor connected in series and alternately arranged.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have a teaching of Bennett et al. employed in the PCB of Fan in order to reduce reflect wave and noise of memory card connected to slots of a PCB.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 11 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

6. Claims 4-9 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior arts fail to teach or suggest in combination of a plurality of terminal resistors electrically connected to the first and second memory slot sets through the circuit board, and the plurality of terminal resistors, the first and second memory slot sets are connected to a terminator voltage.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-11 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
